SON OF PROMINENT ELGIN PEOPLE

Youth Sought by Federal Agents Said to Have Escaped from Industrial School in Illinois

Alleging she was lured away from her home here with a promise of "beautiful gowns" and a place as "leading lady in a big theatrical production," Lila Dimon, aged 17, daughter of John F. Dimon, 521 Avon street, is being detained by the federal authorities at St. Joseph, Mich., while special agents of the department of justice are searching for Comer Campbell, aged 18, Elgin, Ill., the youth she claims induced her to leave home and who afterwards deserted her, penniless, in a St. Joseph hotel.

The Dimon girl has been missing from her home here since the night of January 5.

Comer Campbell, the boy with whom she ran away, is a nephew of Rev. M. E. Fraser, pastor of the Calcedonia Street M. E. church, and has been visiting at the Fraser home. Young Campbell, who is the son of T. M. Campbell, prominent Elgin, Ill., churchworker, is alleged to have escaped from the St. Charles school for boys where he had been committed for forgery.

Went to Winona

The Dimon girl at the time she ran away with Campbell, was a singer in the North Presbyterian church choir, a place she had been given following a "mysterious disappearance" of but a few weeks before.

After being missing for several days she was found, upon the former occasion, working in the home of a private family in Winona, Minn.

"It was upon her return from Winona that we gave her the place in the choir to help her along," said Rev. Finch A. Clarke, pastor of the Presbyterian church, today.

Webber Gets "Tip"

It was soon after the disappearance of the Dimon girl that Police Chief John B. Webber secured information that young Campbell was also missing. He notified authorities in various cities and yesterday received word that the girl had been

WEATHER

Temperatures yesterday:

High, 34.

Low, 15.

Precipitation, 0.

Forecast for La Crosse and vicinity: Unsettled weather tonight and Saturday; probably snow. Colder Saturday.

For Wisconsin: Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday. Fresh winds.

For Minnesota: Unsettled weather tonight and Saturday; probably snow. Colder tonight.

For Iowa: Unsettled weather tonight and Saturday; probably rain or snow. Warmer extreme east and colder west portion tonight. Colder Saturday; fresh winds.

Weather Conditions

An area of low pressure covers the country from the Mississippi river to the Rocky mountains and unsettled weather prevails throughout these districts with somewhat higher temperature from Nebraska to Texas, in Montana and the adjacent Canadian territory.

Light rain or snow has been general west of the Rocky mountains, in Montana and western Dakotas.

An area of moderately high pressure extends from Manitoba to the south Atlantic coast and another high is moving in on the Pacific slope.

The normal easterly drift of these pressure conditions will cause unsettled weather in this section tonight and Saturday with probably snow. The temperature will be somewhat lower Saturday.

CARL D. JACKSON SUCCEEDS ROEMER

Governor Philipp to Send Name of Oshkosh Man to Senate for Confirmation

C. & N. W. MAN MAY GET JOB

Persistent Rumor About the Capitol Is That William Nash Will Succeed David Harlowe

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 15.—The rumor is persistent here that Elliott Nash, assistant general manager of the Northwestern road, has been offered an appointment on the railroad commission to succeed David H. Harlowe, whose term of office expires on February 1. Mr. Nash has been in Madison for several days, but refuses to make any statement regarding the matter.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 15.—Carl D. Jackson of Oshkosh was named by Governor Philipp yesterday as a member of the Wisconsin railroad commission to succeed John H. Roemer, resigned. It confirmed by the senate Jackson will be ready to take up his duties on February 1. It is understood that his appointment will be sent to the senate next Tuesday. Mr. Jackson came into public attention here through the litigation over the purchase of the property of the Oshkosh Water Works company by the city. As the attorney for the company he appeared in the circuit court asking an increase of the award allowed by the railroad commission in that valuation case.

Jackson was born in Evanston, Ill., in 1870, was educated at Northwestern university and at the Harvard law and was admitted to the practice of law in 1895. He was elected district attorney of Winnebago county in 1906 and held the position for three terms. Mr. Jackson was not an applicant for the position.

HOUSES ADJOURN NAME COMMITTEES

Bosshard and Scott Keep Chairmanships of Corporations and Finance

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 15.—The senate yesterday afternoon completed its organization, named its committees and adjourned until next Tuesday morning, when it will start the real deal-in-earnest work. The report of the committee on committees was brought into the senate at the session yesterday afternoon by Senator Burke, and was adopted upon motion of Senator Ackley. The committees follow:

State affairs—Senators Stevens, chairman; Cunningham, Culbertson, Hanson, Everett, Barkley and Arnold.

Education and public welfare—Senators Perry, chairman; Ackley, Albers, Monk, Potts, Staudenmeyer and Jennings.

Corporations—Senators Bosshard, chairman; Martin, Skogmo, Bray, Glenn, Kellogg, Mulberger.

Judiciary—Senators Burke, chairman; Tomkins, Richards, Huber, Bennett, Fairchild, Weissleder.

Finance—Senators Scott, chairman; Whitman, Buxter, Bichler, Rollmann.

Legislative procedure—Senators Fairchild, chairman; Burke, Ackley, Bosshard, Bennett, Albers.

Congressing expenditures—Senators Monk, chairman; Berry, Whitman, Kellogg, Bichler.

As a result of the compromise between the progressives and stalwarts, the progressives gained control over all of the senate patronage in their own districts. This, in addition to the committee appointments, is considered a victory, because the stalwarts were able to elect Fairchild president at any time through the aid of stalwart democrats.

The assembly held a purely perfunctory meeting before the reading of the governor's message in the morning, and then adjourned until Tuesday at 10 o'clock.

GERMANS WIN BIG SUCCESS WHICH DRIVES FRENCH SOUTH OF AISNE RIVER AND MAY PRESAGE NEW ATTEMPT TO BESIEGE PARIS

"Whys" of European War Moves Explained By Military Expert

(By J. W. T. MASON.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—11 a. m.—The German success driving the French across the Aisne, east of Soissons, is the most important victory either side has won in the western war area since winter began. Its present significance is negligible, but, if the Germans can maintain their position on the south of the river, they will have a permanent crossing for future operations toward Paris.

Whether the spring campaign will so develop as to permit a new drive on Paris, cannot be known now to anyone. But, certainly this possibility exists, and in it is a warrant for Germany's suddenly developed Soissons offensive. The Kaiser, recovered from his recent illness, seems to have selected the Aisne front for his convalescent visit to the firing line, which in itself suggests that more than casual importance is attached by the Germans to the seizure of crossings over the Aisne.

At no other place have the Germans secured a lodgment south of the Aisne. If they hold their newly won positions, they will be able to threaten the rear of the French communications at Soissons, and if a serious German effort is made to reach Paris once more, the difficulty of the allies' defense of the Aisne positions will be much increased.

The effort to attribute the French defeat to the flooded condition of the Aisne is inappropriate. If the flood destroyed French bridges and made it impossible to send reinforcements across the river, similar obstructions ought to have prevented the Germans crossing the stream.

It is probable that the prime reason for the French defeat was the existence of a weak spot in the French line north of the Aisne, which was discovered by the Germans.

In England, the French reverse will be received with much privately expressed personal bitterness. The positions lost by the French were originally captured from the Germans by Sir John French's army during the battle of the Aisne.

PROGRESSIVES FOR MERGING OF BOARDS

Harry Mortensen Says that Thousands Can Be Saved by Uniting Various Departments

TOMKINS ALSO FAVORS THE PLAN

Member of Upper House Sees Benefit in Uniting Oil Inspectors with Fire Marshal's Department

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 15.—That progressive republicans will fight for the consolidation of many state departments in accordance with bills presented by them two years ago, was the announcement today of Assemblyman Harry J. Mortensen of New Lisbon. Mr. Mortensen was a late candidate for speaker of the house. Early next week he will introduce six repeal bills. These will provide for the abolition of the state fire marshal's department, for the consolidation of the oil inspection department with the industrial commission, for placing the duties of the state treasury agent upon the state treasury, for repealing the law creating the office of state claim agent, for the abolition of the county board of education, and for the consolidation of the fish commission and the fish and game department.

Would Save Thousands

"Many thousands of dollars will be saved to the people of Wisconsin without the loss of any efficiency in service by the enactment of these repeal and consolidation laws," declared Mr. Mortensen. "Many of these same measures were introduced by progressive republicans in senate and assembly last year, particularly those consolidating the work of the fire marshal's department, the oil inspection, the state treasury agent's office and the state claim agent. It is my opinion that the industrial commission, with its full inspection of buildings, operating under a building code, can give sufficient service to the state along the lines of fire inspection to make the further continuation of the fire marshal's department unnecessary. This same staff of inspectors of the industrial commission could as well inspect oil, thereby saving many thousands of dollars.

Departments Obsolete

"The state treasury's agent and the claim agent to the governor have become departments largely obsolete. It is true that much of the work done by the state claim agent must be done in the future, but it could as well be done in the office of the state treasurer at less expense. I understand that one of the officials in the state claim agent's department who receives $100 a month for his services spends considerable time working for a Madison business concern which pays him a salary of $150 a month. This would seem to indicate that many of the duties of this office are not so important but that they could be placed upon the clerical staff of the office of the state treasury. For years the office of state claim agent has been properly referred to as a sinecure, and I hope that it may be abolished after this session ends. The office should be

BRITISH PROTEST CARRANZA DECREE

Vigorously Object to Confiscation of Oil Concessions in Mexico

URGE U. S. TO ACT AT ONCE

Ambassador Calls on Bryan to Request Drastic Action to Stop Enforcement

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—A protest of the most vigorous character from the British government against Carranza's decree confiscating oil properties in the Tampico district, was delivered to the state department today by British Ambassador Spring-Rice.

The representations followed the receipt of reports by the British authorities that destruction of British oil wells, and stopping of operation of all others were intended by the Carranza officials.

It was pointed out in the British protest that the British government is dependent upon the Tampico oil fields to a large extent for its oil supplies, needed particularly during the war, and that cutting off this supply would cause prices in Great Britain to soar.

Ambassador Spring-Rice conferred with Secretary of State Bryan to urge immediate and drastic steps by the United States to prevent the enforcement of Carranza's decree. Bryan informed him that the United States had already notified Consul Canada at Vera Cruz to make strong representations to Carranza on the subject, but suggested that Spring-Rice cable Carranza direct. The ambassador said he would do this.

FIVE MILES OF TRENCHES TAKEN NEAR SOISSONS

French Admit Retirement and Private Fear Is Expressed Germans Will Move on Capital

SILENT ABOUT ALSACE OFFENSIVE

Paris Fears Misfortune Has Overtaken French Attack in Lost Province Because of Lack of News

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—In the biggest success which has been gained since the opening of the winter campaign, the German troops operating east of Soissons have driven the French back from their positions north of the Aisne river, occupied since the drive on Paris was turned back. The French lines are now south of the river.

The war office, in commenting on the operations to the north of Soissons says that the conditions are "similar to those of the battle of Gravelotte, in 1870." By a series of general assaults, aided by the artillery, it is declared that Cuffies, Buey Le' Long, Missy Sur Aisne, Vauserot and Vaillerie were all captured by the German infantry. The French were defeated so signally that they abandoned quantities of supplies and all of their wounded. The northern banks of the Aisne, it is declared, were literally covered with dead and wounded.

Attack at St. Mihiel

The French, it is stated, are continuing their effort to take the German positions in the triangle at St. Mihiel, and have sacrificed a large number of men in the attempt. In every instance, the attacking force has been repulsed, according to the report reaching Berlin.

The fighting to the northeast of Soissons continues with little change in the positions, and the naval and land bombardments of the German positions close to the Belgian coast are being maintained with little damage to the German entrenchments.

Success in East

Definite progress is reported in the German attacks on the Russian positions west of the Vistula. To the northeast of Rawka, it is stated that Point D'Appui has been carried by assault, and 500 prisoners, three machine guns and a flag captured. Stubborn Russian counter attacks have been repelled with heavy losses to the enemy.

French Admit Losses

PARIS, Jan. 15.—By a series of massed assaults continuing all day yesterday, aided by a galling artillery fire, the Germans drove the French from more than five miles of trenches north of the Aisne and east of Soissons. The Germans have pushed forward to the river bank, and heavy artillery mounted in the trenches from which the French were driven yesterday is pouring a heavy fire into the French lines south of the river.

Officially the war office insists that the withdrawal was due entirely to floods now prevailing in the "five rivers" district and that it was of no strategic importance, but privately the fear is expressed in high circles that the enemy is getting ready for another dash upon Paris.

DAVIDSON TO BE ON STATE BOARD

Former Governor Slated for Position by Governor Philipp According to Madison Gossip

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 15.—James O. Davidson, former governor, is slated for a position on the state board of control according to persistent gossip about the capitol this morning.

Mr. Davidson during the last campaign spent much of his time accompanying Governor Philipp through the state.

Mr. Philipp was active in behalf of O. G. Munson for chief clerk of the state senate.

MORE THAN 100 TOWNS ARE DESTROYED BY DISASTER IN ITALY

Hundred Thousand Persons Are Injured and Half a Million Are Homeless With Every Relief Agency Taxed to Utmost to Care For Them

TROOPS DIG WOUNDED FROM THE DEBRIS

Refugees Stream Into Rome Where Every Public Building Has Been Turned Into Hospital—Whole Lira Valley Devastated

BY ALICE ROHE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Jan. 15.—Every hour swells the casualty list of the earthquake disaster. Official and unofficial reports reaching Premier Salandra, in charge of the relief work, show that towns heretofore believed immune have suffered. The latest estimates of the dead say that at least 30,000 fell victims to the quake. The list of injured may reach 100,000.

The minister of public works, who is at the scene of the disaster today wired Premier Salandra that every city, town and village in the Lira valley has been damaged, with many of the inhabitants dead and wounded. Because many of the victims are still entombed in the ruins of their homes, additional troops were sent to the quake zone today. Hundreds of wounded victims are streaming into Rome and all of the public buildings have been turned into temporary hospitals to relieve the pressure on the regular hospitals already crowded to the limit.

1,300 Die at Magliano

The government is still greatly concerned about conditions at Magliano De Marsi where refugees reported that 1,300 persons had been killed; Cappelle, where 800 were reported entombed, and Albafuorno, which has been totally razed, but up to the present no reports have reached here from the troops sent to the relief.

It is now declared that not less than 100 cities, towns and villages suffered from the earthquake. The number of persons who are in need of at least temporary relief will reach half a million and it will require several months to restore the wrecked districts.

URGE WILSON TO CUT FLOUR PRICE

President of Housewives Leagues Wires Demand to Washington for Drastic Action

FLOUR GOES TO DOLLAR A SACK

Cost Soars in Wake of Wheat's Skyrocketing in the Pit Yesterday and Today

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—President Wilson was urged to take drastic measures at once to prevent further advance in the price of flour and consequent suffering among the poor, in a telegram addressed to him this afternoon by Mrs. Julian Heath, president of the National Housewives' league.

Mrs. Heath acted promptly when she learned from a canvass of retail stores that an advance from 85 cents to $1 for a 24 1-2 pound sack of flour was made generally in New York today. She favors an embargo.

Predict Dollar Flour

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—A thirty cent advance in the price of a bag of flour for which housewives now pay seventy cents and disappearance of the five cent loaf of bread was the prophecy made today following the record top price of $1.43 3-8 per bushel for wheat in the local pit yesterday. The jump of flour to $7.20 per barrel, also will be a factor in advanced bread prices, according to Chicago bakers.

As a result of this latest jump in wheat United States District Attorney Cline will "invite" members of Chicago's board of trade to give their opinions as to the cause of the rise. It is estimated that in the past six months 200,000,000 bushels of wheat have been sold to foreign countries. This leaves 90,000 bushels of America's reserve stock.

Wheat Passes $1.45

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—The $1.45 mark was reached and passed today in the local wheat pit. Before the trading was over, May wheat had gone to $1.45 1-4. July reached a high point for the day at $1.27 1-4. These figures represented advances respectively of 1 3-8c and 1 1-8c a bushel over today's opening.

The sensational wheat rise today was caused by continued heavy export, 2,416,000 more bushels of wheat having been exported this week than during the same week in 1914. Entrance of the Greek government into the market aided in the rise.

Avezano Wiped Out

The chief death list is, of course, at Avezano, which official statements say "no longer exists." "The death list there is 10,479 persons. Today word was received that there are 1,300 dead in Cappelle; 3,000 at San Benedetto; 4,000 at Pescina. In addition, more than 1,000 have been reported killed from towns and villages scattered throughout the entire earthquake zone. Fears are expressed that big death lists also will be reported from Ortucchio which has 2,400 inhabitants and Gloeomarsi, which has 3,500, both of which towns are reported to have been practically wiped off the map.

Despite the declaration of the seismologists that the quake was of geological and not of volcanic origin, representatives from Naples say that many of the supposedly extinct craters in that section are showing signs of life and fears are expressed that volcanic disturbances may yet add to the horror. There have been several very slight shocks since the initial one, but the experts say that this was to be expected and that they will result in little further damage.

The work of rescue, begun immediately after the catastrophe, is being pressed rapidly. Every available man that can be used is working searching the ruins. The work of recovering the bodies, especially at Avezano, is very slow, as many of the partly destroyed buildings had to be completely demolished in order that the rescuers might not face the danger of being buried.

Bodies Crushed

The city is one great mass of debris. Nearly all of the bodies so far recovered are crushed and mangled beyond recognition. Three thousand soldiers under the command of engineer officers are systematically searching the debris. All others are excluded from the city. A score of large tents have been erected in the fields outside of the city, where the wounded are stretched out on cots under the care of the military surgeons. Moans and cries were still heard from some of the ruined houses today.

Nearly 300 bodies of soldiers were taken from the barracks and because of their condition were immediately buried in one common grave. It has been ordered that all bodies, when recovered, be identified if possible. Those that can be held for relatives will be placed in a gigantic morgue which has already been opened. But the majority, which are mangled beyond recognition, are being buried almost immediately in order to prevent pestilence.

Military cordons have been placed about every stricken town. King Victor is in personal charge and is touring the earthquake zone accompanied by members of his personal staff. Under his direction additional relief trains were sent out from Rome today with doctors and supplies.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

RUBY REJOICES

BY MOLLY McMASTER

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)
The studio was aglow in the warm rich light from an open wood fire. On the walls, the floor and in every remote corner of the room were relics of travel—of happy days that were no more. The curtain was even then descending on one phase of Ruby Walton's existence.

The girl herself, sitting before the fire, shielded her eyes with slim, artistic fingers from the too searching light. She drew a deep breath that trembled and would have wept save that she must not be red-eyed during the next hour or two.

He, the man who was coming, had offered to buy the contents of the studio and to take over the remainder of the lease. Ruby realized with a sickening sense of physical pain that the following few hours would be her last in the world of Paradise. For such had her studio become to Ruby Walton.

It seemed strange that she who loved beauty in its every form was to be cast out and into a world of ugliness and dwell among the sordid realities of a New York boarding house. Ruby shuddered in spite of the control she was exerting, and her great soft eyes traveled tenderly over her beautiful studio home.

"However, there is no one upon whom to cast the blame save myself—extravagant, short-sighted self," Ruby told herself with a wistful smile playing about her eyes and lips. "If only I had been gifted with a little common sense and a thought for the future, together with the determination to paint successful pictures before surrounding myself with luxury, I would not now be selling my very life. Because I know I shall die looking at the ugly, nerve-racking furnishings of a boarding house." She flung herself down on the great lion skin and lay prone before the fire.

Perhaps Ruby's most wonderful dreams had been dreamed there on the great lion skin—yet they had ended where they had begun. Unknown to herself Ruby, the artist, had found expression and contentment in the luxurious beauty of her studio. She had deluded herself, the while she was spending her small fortune, with the belief that she could not paint great pictures unless surrounded by beauty. She could not accept the given command to make use of her talent until she had seen the wonderful arts of the world. Well, Ruby had surrounded herself with beauty and she had seen the art of the world, yet not one picture had flashed onto canvas from the artistic hand that found idleness pleasant. She had dreamed away all her inspiration there by the wood fire, and yet she had not found happiness. There was the constant prick of consciousness that she had not fulfilled her destiny as an artist nor had she found love to take the place of all other interest.

Ruby had never been in love, although her beauty was such as to stagger the very soul of the men who loved her.

"I really think I am in love with my treasures," she told herself, and jumped up hurriedly from her lion skin. Some one had dropped the knocker on her door.

The artist who was to rob her of her dream studio stood outside the door and Ruby met him with a brave smile.

Bob Merrill whistled softly upon beholding the interior of the girl's wonderful studio. He turned swiftly toward her.

"It must be a frightful wrench to give up this," he said.

"It is," Ruby told him quietly. "There is no one to blame save myself."

"Maybe you can buy it when your ship comes in again," Merrill suggested with a cheery smile. "You know I am not a real artist, but I am the kind that makes money. If I had been one I would have had the taste to furnish a studio of my own, now that I have made the coin."

"In that case I would not have had a purchaser, so I must be thankful you are not the 'real thing.'"

Ruby smiled and Merrill knew that he was going to give her whatever she asked as a price for the contents of her studio.

When they had finished their bargain Ruby made a cup of tea in her samovar. She succeeded in stifling her emotion when she knew that even the tea cart with its beautiful equipment was no longer her own. And Merrill, seeing her courage, marveled at her strength, her beauty and her charm. He felt glad that he was to live among the intimate treasures of her selection. Certainly it would be inspiring.

When Ruby found herself ensconced in a boarding house she thought that another few weeks would see her passing away. It did not seem possible to live and look at the frightful pictures, the ghastly bric-a-brac and hideous carpets that went toward the furnishing of her room. She had not been one day in the place until she had taken down the pictures from the walls and the awful embroidery from the chair backs and tables. The places where the pictures had been were faded and seemed like ghosts of a lost art to Ruby. Those pale wraiths on the walls seemed to dance about accusingly, and to Ruby's vivid imagination they seemed the spirits of pictures she had dreamed of and never painted.

"I will have to make a few sketches," she decided. "I can't possibly lie here looking at those blank spaces." She longed passionately for her lovely treasures and the luxury of her studio.

In the afternoon Ruby took sketching canvas and paints and went over to the Palisades. She would make a few hurried sketches of the glorious scenery and put them on her faded walls. Hours passed and the sun turned to dull red, yet Ruby painted on. Three exquisite sketches lay on the grass beside her, and it was not until positive gloom had settled over the Palisades that it occurred to her that night had come. She picked up her materials and went slowly home. The glow that had spread through her body while working remained. There was a feeling akin to complete happiness surrounding her.

She found upon returning to her room in the boarding house that it had grown wonderfully lovely. It no longer seemed ugly and uninhabitable. Ruby did not know that it was her own inward contentment that made all things lovely. She put her sketches up on the walls to dry and decided during the evening while looking at them that she would finish them off and enter them at exhibitions. Ruby had always known she could paint and she rejoiced now at the enforced comparative poverty that prompted her to work. She knew that luxury, beauty of surroundings and comfort had robbed her of the desire to do anything great in the world of art. Now she thought only of beauty as expressed by herself, her own brain and fingers.

It was not long before Ruby Walton knew herself to be a successful artist. Constant application to work sent her quickly up and into the niche from which she had fallen while steeped in the atmosphere of dreams.

She had from time to time met Bob Merrill, and always he had seemed to be studying her as if to find out just what her attitude toward him was.

"You know, I suppose, your feelings are more or less antagonistic," he said to her some months after the exchange of the studio. "Toward me I mean, not the world."

"On the contrary," Ruby told him, with a rising color, "I feel that in robbing me of my fascinating, dreamy atmosphere you have given me an incentive to take my place among artists." She slipped her hand into his and pressed the fingers that grasped her own. She had not reckoned on the quickened breath that escaped her lips, and it was with difficulty that she finished her speech of thanks.

Merrill laughed frankly and tucked her arm within his and led her to a delightful, cozy corner. "I have so much to thank you for," he said, softly, "that it will probably take me the rest of my natural life to tell you about it."

Later, by way of finishing a deeply interesting discussion, Ruby was compelled to make use of the word "yes" before Bob would release her from the cozy corner.

When she again entered her beautiful studio and stood in the soft glow from the wood fire, she was not Ruby Walton, artist and bachelor girl, but Ruby Walton Merrill, wife of Bob Merrill, the popular cartoonist.

Love the Beautifier.

Love is always building up. It puts some line of beauty on every life it touches. It makes life seem more worth while to every one into whose eyes it looks. Its words are benedictions. Its every breath is full of inspiration.—Westminster Teacher.

FIRST WIFE WILL HELP "LOVE MATE"

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Mrs. Ida Sniffen Walters "Rogers" will have the aid and sympathy of the first wife of her lawyer-lover, Lorlys Elton Rogers, when she goes to trial for poisoning her two babies, it was made known today.

"My sympathies are all for Ida," said Rogers' first wife, a daughter of the late Senator Roquemore of Montgomery, Ala.

Mrs. Roquemore-Rogers' story before the grand jury revealed the fact that from each of his two legal marriages, Lorlys Elton Rogers provided a loophole of escape. Like Mrs. Caroline Ciddings Rogers, the second wife, the first Mrs. Rogers said she had signed an agreement with Rogers that if he ever grew tired of her they would separate.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Why the Sea Is So Salt.

They Set the Mill to Grind Salt.

"KIDDIES, have you never wondered why the sea is salt?" asked daddy, his eyes all twinkly.

"Yes, daddy, we have!" cried the two kiddies. "Tell us about it."

"Very well," said daddy, still with his eyes all twinkly. "The Danish King Frodi while on a visit to the king of Sweden bought two very large and strong women slaves named Fenia and Menia.

"He took them back to Denmark with him, and because they were so large and strong he set them at work grinding upon a magic millstone which was so large that none of King Frodi's men slaves could move it.

"He ordered them to grind out much gold and peace and prosperity to him. At first Fenia and Menia obeyed him and ground out gold and then more gold, and peace and plenty reigned in the land of King Frodi.

"But you see, kiddies, the old king was so grasping that he worked these two maids too hard. He wouldn't give them any holiday or pretty clothes or nice things to eat at all. But day after day, dressed in coarse, heavy sack cloth smocks, these poor slaves ground and ground at their task.

"One day two courtiers were standing near the mill talking. One of them said very low so he thought the maids wouldn't hear:

"If those slaves were smart they would know that this is a magic mill and will grind out anything they wish it too. Poor things; they have no minds, only muscles!"

"But the slaves heard and were not so dull as they might have been, because they set right to work and ground out a great army to help them fight King Frodi.

"A sea king came and took command of the army. There was a great fight, and Frodi was killed. Then the sea king took all the golden treasure of King Frodi, the magic mill and the slaves.

"While they were on board ship the sea king wanted salt, so Fenia and Menia ground him some out of the magic mill. Then he set them to work to grind salt all day long, and they became so angry at him for trying to enslave them again that they set the mill to grinding salt, and the ship sank, and they all went to the bottom of the sea. And the mill is still grinding salt."

"Did Menia and Fenia get drowned, daddy?"

"I think they must have," said daddy.

"Those slaves had a pretty hard time of it in those old days, didn't they, daddy?"

A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

Fiery Blood Disorders Checked

The Sources of Disease are Cleaned and Blood Purified

Those who have used S. S. S. marvel at the way it checks blood diseases. See a man today with his skin all broken out; see him again in a week or two after using S. S. S. and he is a wonder to behold, all cleared up, skin healthy, eyes bright, a big smile replaces the droop. What is S. S. S. that can accomplish such wonderful results? First of all it is a natural medicine. Like milk, eggs and other foods that can not be imitated, S. S. S. owes its power to Nature for its power to overcome disease just as food prevents emaciation. S. S. S. is not a combination of prescription drugs. It is a preparation direct from medicinal plants that retains all the virile potency of what we need, what we must have in the blood to counteract those destructive tendencies that assail us throughout life. If it were not for our natural secretions to sustain us, aided by such known helps as S. S. S. there would be small chance of any of us surviving childhood.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. today from any druggist but be careful to avoid the substitutes peddled off on the unwary. S. S. S. is prepared only by The Swift Specific Co., 53 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and for private medical advice write briefly your symptoms to their medical department. They will take excellent care of you.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this first day of January, 1915.

Notary Public.

IT IS UP TO THE CHIEF

Let him be still taking the count, we call attention of one J. B. Webber to the fact that he is chief of police.

So saith the supreme court, before whom there shall be no other legal gods. In his hands it has placed the power to enforce discipline by suspension, and its fiat has gone forth that no authority shall interfere with him in such matters. Yea, verily, the chief is chief, sole and despotic czar of the handsomest, and the false prophets are banished from his troubled realm.

Now is the time for John Webber to snap the last dangling thread in the skein of accusations woven against him. Still it is said that he lacks command, that he has no discipline.

Are there members of the force who in return for their salaries render the munificent service of keeping their chief under surveillance to "get something on him?" For them the sharp ultimatum and the penalty of the first new offense.

Are there officers who contribute to law and order by vicious associations and immoral practices? For them the probe and the discard.

With the whip in his own hand, Chief Webber should drive hard and fast to the end of the long road by which lie the ambushes of his political enemies. La Crosse demands a clean and efficient force of officers. Its citizens are not satisfied to rely upon a chief who must do all the important work in person. They want order and system. In the past his tied hands have been sufficient excuse. Now that he is free and amply empowered, it is up to him to clean out every vestige of incompetence, depravity and insubordination.

Police panning is apt to deal in generalities, and it should not be forgotten that policemen are men, with families and souls and feelings. That a policeman is charged with offenses should create no bias against him in the public mind, for justice presumes him innocent until proven guilty. Judgment should await the evidence. Nor should rumors and generalities of accusation be permitted to injure the standing of the force in general. As surely as we believe there are unfit men on the police force, do we believe that other members of the force are clean and honest officials. Of the latter our one criticism is that they stand silently by when a word from them would rid the force of men who not only are unfit for the service, but whose conduct casts a cloud over the reputations of fellow officers whose only serious offense is shielding the unworthy brother.

DON'T SUPPLY THE "TEETH THAT BITE"

A development of the European war that is of special interest to the United States, as shedding light on a proposed national policy, is the recent ukase issued by the czar of Russia cutting down the number of men to be called to the colors in 1915.

Conscription in Russia has annually resulted in the addition of 700,000 men to the army. This year, by the czar's order, the new recruits will be limited to 555,000. The Petrograd government explains the curious anomaly of enlisting fewer soldiers during a war than is customary in time of peace by the characteristic declaration that the war is proceeding so satisfactorily from the Russian viewpoint that more men are not needed.

This explanation was probably intended for home consumption. It varies so widely from the conditions known to exist in the eastern theater of war that experts have united in discrediting it. They are agreed that the real reason behind the ukase is that Russia is unable to equip its usual quota of men.

From its greater lack of manufacturing facilities and its isolation from neutral sources of supply, except by the roundabout Siberian route, Russia is naturally the first of the powers to feel the pinch of a munition shortage. Germany is also practically cut off from outside supply, and, dependent upon its own resources, even the super-efficient German organization is beginning to feel the drain of the war on supplies of military necessities, if recent stories that all the copper in Belgium has been requisitioned are to be believed.

Men cannot be sent into the trenches to fight with bare fists—a deplorable circumstance from the viewpoint of a general staff bent on exterminating the enemy. But to neutral nations to whom the war is a vast horror, whose perspective enables them to grasp, without patriotic illusion, the terrible significance of the heaps of torn and bloody bodies on both sides of the battle line, the fact that certain brave men are unable to offer up their lives is a welcome ray of light in an otherwise desperately sombre picture. The effect of Russia's poverty of equipment on the military fortunes of the Slav army is negligible against the thought that 115,000 lives are kept out of danger by that shortage.

The Russian situation is a concrete example of the saving in human life which a lack of weapons entails—a lack which would shortly become acute should neutral nations place an embargo on arms. It is a powerful argument for passage of the Volmer-Bartholdt bill now pending at Washington.

The war will not come to an abrupt end if the United States quits selling arms. But an embargo will do much to cut down the daily bag of Mars' bloody hunting.

Contemporaneously news dispatches announced a report showing that the loss of life in territory in which about one-fifth of the European troops are engaged approximated 800,000, and that perhaps 20,000 had been killed in an Italian earthquake. Almost every newspaper gave the former a stickful and the latter a seven column head. Thus does "familiarity breed contempt."

"In London," says an official report, "twenty-nine per cent of the days are wet." In the United States that would be regarded as rather dry territory.

Not Treating

Jack MacTavish and two English friends went out on the loch on a fishing trip, and it was agreed that the first man to catch a fish should later stand treat at the inn. As MacTavish was known to be the best fisherman thereabouts, his friends took considerable delight in assuring him that he had as good as lost already.

"An' d'ye ken," said Jack, in speaking of it afterward, "baith o' them had a guid bite, an' wis sae mean they wadna pu' in."

"Then you lost?" asked the listener.

"Oh, no. I dinna pit ony bait on my hook."—Argonaut.

Love

"Love is an over-rated passion," said Butler Glaenzer, the essayist and critic, at a dinner at the Players' club in New York.

A fat, bow-legged clerk of middle age, earning $25 a week, meets a beautiful girl, a peerlessly beautiful girl, a girl for whom he well knows there's nothing good enough—and he confidently offers himself.

Mr. Glaenzer's eyes twinkled behind his pince-nez.

"And that," he said, "is love."—Exchange.

Mary's Little Vote

This couplet is going the rounds of the Kansas papers, credited to Blanche Wheatley:

"Mary had a little vote that roamed o' the state about, and everywhere that vote got in, John Barleycorn got out."—Kansas City Star.

In 1912 automobiles killed 21 persons in London and 234 in New York.

KIDNEY TROUBLE CAUSES INTENSE SUFFERING

Sixteen years ago I was taken sick with kidney trouble and suffered terribly for three months. I did not work during this time and was mostly confined to the bed. After using other remedies I finally tried a bottle of Swamp-Root. I immediately began to feel better, and after using seven fifty-cent bottles, was entirely cured and have had no kidney trouble since. I can truly say that I owe my good health to Swamp-Root. You may publish this letter for the benefit of other people afflicted as I was with the hope of bringing to their attention this most wonderful remedy. Yours very truly,

Baking Helps

Valuable Suggestions
 By Mrs. Nevada Briggs, Expert of the Art of Baking, as taught by Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill

Helpful Cake Making Hints
 Always sift flour and K C Baking Powder at least three times. The more sifting, the lighter the cake. Remember that! To cream butter and sugar thoroughly, then add yolks, if used. Then alternately add moisture and flour that has been sifted with baking powder and stir until smooth and glossy, adding egg whites after thoroughly mixing.

Always use K C Baking Powder. Biscuit Helps
 Always sift flour and K C Baking Powder at least three times. Have shortening cold and firm. Mix dough as soft as it can be handled. The softer dough goes into the oven, the lighter the biscuit when it comes out. It is easier for K C Baking Powder to do its work in soft than in stiff dough. Mix biscuits very little. Do not knead. Stir up with spoon or knife and press in shape to roll on floured board.

With K C Baking Powder results are sure and certain. Ask your grocer for K C.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles
 Pretty Good World
 This world's a pretty good sort of world.
 Taking it altogether,
 In spite of the grief and sorrow we meet,
 In spite of the gloomy weather,
 There are friends to love and hopes to cheer,
 And plenty of compensation
 For every ache for those who make
 The best of the situation.

There are quiet nooks for lovers of books,
 With nature in happy union;
 There are cool retreats from the noontide heat,
 Where souls may have sweet communion;
 And if there's a spot where the sun shines not,
 There's always a lamp to light it,
 And if there's a wrong, we know ere long
 That heaven above will right it.

So it's not for us to make a fuss
 Because of life's sad mischances,
 Nor to wear ourselves out to bring about
 A change in our circumstances;
 For this world's a pretty good sort of world.

And he to whom we are debtor
 Appoints our place and supplies the grace
 To help make it better.

Imitated His Superiors
 A good story is being told by Lord Lovat, head of the famous Lovat Scouts, who is to command the Highland Mounted Brigade with the allies on the continent. A very much ruffled private was under arrest for some offense, and Lord Lovat inquired of the sergeant as to what his offense was.

"He's a very troublesome fellow, sir," replied the sergeant. "Got too much lip, goes out without leave, comes back when he likes, and gets drunk when he likes—just as if he was an officer."—Toronto Mail and Empire.

"Changed my mind," and Sledge, leaning slightly forward, pushed the special button which had been inserted into the window ledge for his convenience.

"I may as well send for Bozzam and hand him a time-table, then," decided Bendix, with a sigh of regret. "I like that cuss, somehow. He's a good business man. Adolph," this to the solemn waiter with the smiling mustache, "tell the tall gentleman in the gray clothes to step in."

"Yes, sir," acknowledged Adolph. "Drinks?"

Sledge nodded, and Adolph disappeared. Mr. Bozzam, though certain in his soul of a lost cause, came in as cheerfully as if he were to receive a Christmas present, accepted an introduction to Sledge with a careful avoidance of over-enthusiasm, and displayed his supreme knowledge of men by sitting down with a hermetically sealed mouth.

"Well, Bozzam," said Bendix, "I'm sorry to remark that you draw a death warrant."

Mr. Bozzam spent a solid moment in studying the stony profile of Sledge.

"How's your Gas and Electric Company?" he gently inquired.

Bendix grinned at him in delight. "You've picked a grand little opportunity," he confessed, "but local talent will operate. There's no use, Bozzam. We're sorry you're going, but the best of friends must part."

"I can't bear it," affirmed Mr. Bozzam, "and you'll have to get out an injunction to drive me away. Now, look here, gentlemen. What's the use of wasting an absolutely perfect high-finance machine, such as I have welded together? Where's there another municipal improvement organization which, besides its expert promoters and salesmen, can produce the living, breathing body of a sure-enough millionaire?"

"You certainly have a fine outfit," agreed Bendix. "We shall miss you when you're gone."

"Let us hope that the parting is not yet," ventured Mr. Bozzam, smiling pleasantly. "Don't you think that this city could support another fine, progressive, solidly backed life-insurance company? I understand that Pelican, of the Mastodon Reserve, is talked of for governor on the hymn-book ticket."

For the first time, Sledge favored the tall promoter with a full view of his eyeballs. He shifted his gaze to Bendix, and met on his chief lieutenant's countenance a pleased expression, then he gazed out again at the hand-hole in the gate.

"Huh!" he grunted.

"You'd better have your plan of operation for me to look over to-night," Bendix suggested, with a congratulatory smile.

"It's ready for you right now," declared Bozzam, rising.

"No," replied Bendix; "you fellows will probably want to spend the afternoon unpacking your luggage."

Bert Glider called, in a rather bad humor, which was increased, with a jerk, when he saw the red roses.

"I guess I made a mistake this morning," he suggested. "I thought you phoned for me to come over right away."

"Well?" demanded Bendix.

"Well," repeated Bert. "Mr. Sledge was not in."

"Well?" again said Bendix.

Mr. Glider suddenly felt that it was unbecoming to cherish resentment.

"What can I do for you?" he graciously inquired.

"Make some money. The Ridge-wood Avenue extension is slated, but the word isn't to go out yet."

"Thanks," returned Bert, losing his resentment immediately. "I'll close with you for that Porson tract as soon as you're ready."

A telephone message arrived from Mr. Marley, who inquired very particularly, and with some haughtiness, if Mr. Sledge was in, and would stay in.

"Bert Glider gives me a distress," commented Bendix, when that natty

"He's harmless," defended Sledge; "harmless and handy."

"He's too much of a lady fusser," persisted Bendix. "He pays more attention to them than he does to business. And the girls go crazy over him."

Sledge turned to him in slow wonder.

"Would they marry a pretty guy like that?" he incredulously demanded.

"He could take his pick of 'em," confidently asserted Bendix.

Sledge contemplated that awful fact in silence for two long minutes.

"He is a piffle," he charged. "Edge in on his business. We might want to dish him."

Mr. Marley called, a severe example of outraged dignity, maintaining a cold attitude during all the time in which he was given his instructions regarding the plans for the street-railway reorganization, and when the business details were disposed of, he vented his grievance.

"I'm sorry that my daughter's ignorance of the importance of business affairs annoyed you this morning," he began, striking at Sledge over Molly's defenseless shoulder.

"The beans are safe," Sledge reminded him.

"I have been humiliated," insisted Mr. Marley. "I was about to go with my daughter when you phoned. I understand that she then requested Mr. Glider to go with her; but you had also sent for him. When we arrived here, you had gone out. When I returned to my office, I learned, to my mortification, that you had accompanied her to the dog pound."

Sledge, whose normal laugh was a grunt, chuckled until he face grew red.

"And so Molly's dog trip was a come-back," he delightedly surmised. "I'm glad she put me on the ticket. Why, Marley, that girl's a born politician. You ought to borrow her brains."

WOMAN OFFERS BODY TO SCHOOL

BOULDER, Col., Jan. 15.—A young woman of Colorado Springs, apparently driven to desperation by poverty, wants to sell her body to the medical department of Boulder university.

"I am a young woman in good health and have a perfect physique, but I am up against it and need money to buy food," a letter received today declared. "I have heard that medical schools buy bodies for use in dissecting and I hope you will buy mine. Please offer me as much as you can."

HAVE YOU HAD THE GRIP?

The debility and depression following an attack of the grip is not a fancied disorder. "Post-grippal neurasthenia" is the medical name for this condition and its seriousness is recognized by all medical writers.

One authority says: "Broadly speaking, every victim of the grip will suffer from post-grippal neurasthenia also. Lowering of nervous tone, with increased irritability is the most striking effect of the disease, with languor of mind and body, disturbed sleep and vague pains in the head and elsewhere."

Every sufferer will recognize the symptoms. What is the remedy? After the fever has passed and the influenza has subsided the diet should be more liberal but be limited to articles easily digested; rest and sufficient sleep are essential and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the only medicine required in most cases. This treatment should be continued until the patient is completely restored to normal health and spirits. It is a specific treatment and rarely if ever fails.

Send today for the booklet "Building Up the Blood." It is free if you mention this paper. Address the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

EMBALMED FISH WHET HIS HUNGER

Breaks Into Boathouse and Feasts on Pickled Minnows, Month-old Dressing and Flapjacks

AND THEN HE'S STILL HUNGRY

Pleads with Police Until They Give him "Some Mo' to Eat" at the Station

Embalmed minnows, turkey dressing left over from Thanksgiving and flapjack yesterday failed to lessen the appetite of Sam Clayborn, nineteen-year-old colored man who broke into the boathouse belonging to Charles Fay, 718 Rose street, on Black river, at the foot of St. Cloud street. The police arrested him just as he finished his stolen meal, and when he got to the station he demanded and was given "some mo' to eat."

At noon yesterday Clayborn, who has been held at central police station for some time recovering from a case of frozen feet, broke into the Fay boathouse. The first thing to catch his eye was the gasoline stove, which he lighted before hunting for victuals. His rummaging disclosed flour, which he made into pancakes, some turkey dressing left in the boathouse since Thanksgiving, according to Mr. Fay, and a can of minnows pickled in preservative, used for fishing through the ice. Clayborn took them for choicest Norway sardines. He fried them with his flapjacks.

He was found by the police just as he was finishing his meal. When told later by the police what he had eaten he replied:

"A man will eat anything' w'en he's hungry. It didn't spoil mah appetite fo' de feed you give me, did it?" Clayborn, who is suffering no ill effects from his unique repast, is being held at central station.

New Drink for Afternoon Luncheons

The round of "pink teas," "tango teas," "coffee klatches" and ordinary afternoon social affairs is being varied by functions at which Maté, the great South American drink, is being served.

The delicate tang and delicious flavor of Maté, either hot or iced, seems to appeal to everybody. Maté is particularly welcome when served with light refreshments, for its nutritious and hunger-satisfying properties make a cup of Maté and a bit of cake equal an ordinary meal in sustenance.

In Buenos Aires, Montevideo, Santos, Santiago, Valparaiso and other cosmopolitan and progressive cities in South America, Maté long has been the favorite beverage at social affairs.

Grocers in this city report that the demand for Woodley's Maté is steadily increasing and that all who use the first package come back for more. Many people drink Maté at every meal every day. It comes in 50-cent packages and is easy to prepare.

IF SKIN ITCHES AND BREAKS OUT APPLY SULPHUR

Get ounce of bold-sulphur and heal Eczema eruptions right up

For years, common bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous affections, by reason of its parasite-destroying property. It is not only parasiticide, but also anti-pruritic, antiseptic and remarkably healing in irritable and inflammatory conditions of the skin.

The moment you apply it to an itching or broken out skin the itching stops and the healing begins, says a noted dermatologist. Just common bold-sulphur made into a thick cream effects such prompt and remarkable results, even in aggravated Eczema that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

While not always establishing a permanent cure it never fails to subdue the angry itching and irritation and heal the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin. Any good pharmacist will supply an ounce of bold-sulphur which should be applied to the irritated or inflamed parts, like the ordinary cold creams. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome, particularly when the eruption is accompanied with itching.

FRANKLINS OPPOSE ANNEXING MEXICO

W. E. Barber and Russell Webb Win Debate for Negative at Last Night's Meeting

The negative last night won, by a two to one decision, the debate of the Franklin club on the question, "Resolved, that the peaceful annexation of Mexico to the United States would be beneficial to both countries." Russell Webb and W. E. Barber took the opposition to the question.

In answering the claims of the affirmative, that the United States should annex Mexico and bring the people to a higher state of civilization, the negative held that the inhabitants of the republic beyond the RioGrande are not of the temperament to tolerate such action by any country, especially the United States. The Mexicans, Mr. Webb explained, are up in arms against the commercial exploitations of the Americans and are not now, nor will they soon be, in a mood to consider their annexation to the United States. In case of such action, the opposition held, the country would undoubtedly be kept in a state of rebellion, a condition which would cost the United States millions of dollars annually.

John Bateman, leading the affirmative, held that as great a success could be made of the Mexican annexation as has been made of the Hawaiian Islands and Porto Rico and the nominal annexation of Cuba. The Mexicans, he said, are people who would take rapidly to works of peace if the right pressure were brought to bear upon them.

BABY GIRL SAVES FATHER FROM JAIL

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—A mite of a girl baby saved Powet Rokozure from a possible jail sentence for stealing six potatoes. The man has walked Chicago's streets for work for eighteen months. His wife did the same thing until Wednesday.

Rokozure was in court charged with stealing the potatoes from the railroad yards.

"Are you married?" asked Judge Caverley.

"Yes we have one little girl," replied Rokozure.

"How old?" asked the court solicitor.

"About five hours," said Rokozure.

"Case dismissed. Congratulations," said the judge, who then ordered his own grocer to "take some things out to the new little girl."

GAS, HEARTBURN, INDIGESTION OR A SICK STOMACH

"Pape's Diapiesin" ends all stomach distress in five minutes.

Time it! Pape's Diapiesin will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach surely within five minutes.

If your meals don't sit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapiesin" to keep the entire family free from stomach disorders and indigestion for many months. It belongs in your home.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

SOCIETY

ROSE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

When the Park store department managers honored the ninth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Gus B. Rose by invading the Rose residence at 505 Cass street, last evening, it was demonstrated that the god of song and oratory is the patron genius of this mercantile colossus.

It was a pleasant evening, in which William Doerflinger contributed his famous minstrelsy and indulged in felicitous comment upon the happy union which they celebrated, and in which it was demonstrated that to the forensic talent of the Park store Mr. A. A. Rusty, of the dress goods department, has added the talent of a modern Demosthenes.

Mr. A. T. Muth delivered a pleasant address typical of that genial gentleman, and was a marvel of self-possession when it is considered that for the first time in his life he had become conscious that there were departments above the main floor; in a word, Mr. Muth had discovered the millinery department.

Naturally, the party had somewhat the appearance of a "stag," but it wasn't, for Miss Mathilda Bernhard, the only woman department head, assisted Mrs. Rose in lending the charm of femininity to the occasion.

Those present were: Wm. Doerflinger, A. T. Muth, J. L. Hallik, A. W. Langenbach, H. A. Dimler, J. V. Rudolph, A. A. Rusty, Joseph Doerflinger, Andrew Moser, George Block, Dr. R. T. Case, Dr. A. A. Barr, Miss Mathilda Bernhard, Myron Locke, Gus Raatz, Jule Hoff, A. C. Phillips, Carl Semsch, Archie Downey.

CHOIR ENTERTAINED

The Woman's Guild of Christ Episcopal church, Miss Susanna Cramer, Mrs. E. E. Dow, the Misses Ida and Mae Aiken entertained the choir of Christ church at a six o'clock dinner last evening at the Aiken residence on Main street. Covers were laid for forty. Music and games constituted the entertainment of the evening. Those who contributed to the evening's enjoyment were the Misses Ida Aiken, Winifred Forbes, Alma Fremstad, Mildred Waters, Messrs. Otto Zielke, Harry Marshall, E. O. Forseth and Prof. Harry Packman.

Don't be Misled if You Have Tuberculosis

No specific has been discovered for Tuberculosis, but Eckman's Alternative has been successful in many cases. Read of this case:—

12 Thompson St., New York.

"Gentlemen:—Five years ago last August I was taken to St. Francis' hospital to be treated for bronchitis and congested lungs. After several weeks' treatment I was advised by the doctor to go to a convalescent sanitarium, but could not be admitted because the doctor at the hospital, after a thorough examination, declared my case Tubercular, and gave me a certificate to that effect. I showed the certificate to Father Stark, and he advised me to take Eckman's Alternative. I took it faithfully, and soon found myself free from night sweats and fever. I have not taken the Alternative now for two years, and can truthfully say I am well. I feel better and am stronger than before my sickness." (Abbreviated.)

(Affidavit) MARY KORHAMMER.

Eckman's Alternative is most efficacious in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and upbuilding the system. Contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Small size, $1; regular size, $2. Sold by leading druggists. Write for booklet of recoveries.

SPOTLIGHTS

"THE GIRL OF MY DREAMS"

"Refined and charming musical play," as the Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and New York observers declare, is "The Girl of My Dreams," which will be seen here at the La Crosse Theater Sunday, January 17, matinee at 2:30 and night at 8:15. It is notable they say, for the "infectious lift of its melodies and for the especially artistic performance of Countess Von Hatzfeldt in the leading feminine role of Lucy Medders and Harland Briggs as Harry Swinton, the bachelor, who is 'ready to quit and be good'."

The success of the music may be foreseen, inasmuch as the composer of the score was the late Karl Hoschna, who wrote the fetching tunes enclosed in "Madame Sherry" and "High Jinks." The librettists, whose work proved in many scenes to be no less entertaining for children than for adults, are Wilbur D. Nesbitt, the Chicago Post humorist, and Otto Hauerbach, the adapter of "Madame Sherry." The joint effort of Messrs. Nesbitt, Hauerbach and Hoschna had its first interpretation at the Illinois Theater, Chicago, enjoying an extended run and returning later to the Chicago Opera house.

YOUTH WOUNDS BURGLAR

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 15.—Elwood Adams, 17, a high school student, wounded a burglar who entered the home of his father, Isaac D. Adams, wealthy shoe manufacturer, early today. Young Adams told the police. The youth said he was twice shot at by the intruder, but that he returned the fire and saw the burglar fall. The burglar escaped.

The whale's progress through the water is limited to 10 or 12 miles an hour.

OUCH! BACKACHE! RUB LUMBAGO OR STIFFNESS AWAY

Rub pain from back with small trial bottle of old "St. Jacob's Oil."

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism, you feel stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right on your aching back, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the pain right out and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica, backache or rheumatism so promptly. It never disappoints!

dizziness is gone; your stomach is sweet, liver and bowels clean, and you feel grand. "California Syrup of Figs" is a family laxative. Everyone from grandpa to baby can safely take it and no one is ever disappointed in its pleasant action. Millions of mothers know that it is the ideal laxative to give cross, sick, feverish children. But get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies' children of all ages and for grown-ups on each bottle. Refuse with contempt the cheaper Fig Syrups and counterfeits. See that it bears the name—"California Fig Syrup Company."

Acute Articular Rheumatism

The exact cause of rheumatism is unknown, though it is generally believed to be due to an excess of uric acid in the blood. It may be also said with equal truth that no remedy has been found which is a specific in all cases. In fact the literature of rheumatism shows that there are but few drugs which have not been given a trial. In the hands of one observer we find that a certain drug has been used with the utmost satisfaction; others have found the same remedy to be a great disappointment. All physicians however agree that every method of treatment is aided by the administration of some remedy to relieve the pain and quiet the nervous system and Dr. W. S. Schultze expresses the opinion of thousands of practitioners when he says that Anti-Kamnia Tablets should be given preference over all other remedies for the relief of the pain in all forms of rheumatism. These tablets can be purchased in any quantity. They are also unsurpassed in headaches, neuralgias and all pain. Ask for A-K Tablets.

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

Best Laxative For Children

When your baby is cross and fretful instead of the happy laughing little dear you are accustomed to, in all probability the digestion has become deranged and the bowels need attention. Give it a mild laxative, dispel the irritability and bring back the happy content of babyhood. The very best laxative for children is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, because it contains no opium or narcotic drug, is pleasant to the taste and acts gently, but without griping or other discomfort. Druggists sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. For a free trial bottle write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

Look for this mark in red on boxes and wrappers when you buy grapefruit and oranges. It is the sign of quality and your protection against immature, unripe, inferior fruit.

This year's crop of Florida grapefruit will be better in quality and greater in quantity than any preceding one. Lovers of good citrus fruits naturally await with impatience the opening of the Florida season, because of the juicy, sweet and delicious grapefruit that it brings them. Buy none of the new crop until the fruit is fully ripe—immature grapefruit are not fit to eat.

Buy Only the Ripened Florida Grapefruit

Florida has a State law prohibiting the shipment of green and immature citrus fruits. Some unscrupulous speculators buy the crops of growers who need money badly and rush the fruit to market before it is ripe, in violation of the law. The Florida Citrus Exchange, a non-profit making co-operative organization, for the mutual benefit of consumers and growers, does not indulge in this unfair and unlawful practice.

Good citrus fruits are useful both as food and drink and in many ways. Send four cents in stamps for booklet, giving many ways of serving oranges and grapefruit, to Florida Citrus Exchange, 625 Citizens Bank Building, Tampa, Florida.

Most Florida grapefruit do not become fully ripe on the trees until midwinter or later. A few varieties are matured and ready for eating earlier in the season. The Exchange growers confine their fall shipments entirely to these early kinds. Any fruit shipped under the Exchange mark will be found ripe, juicy and sweet inside, even though the outside is not fully colored. Remember the red mark when you buy.

Florida's oranges are as superior as her grapefruit. They are more juicy and sweeter than others. Try them and you will always buy them.

It is real economy to buy Florida fruit by the box—when ripe it keeps well. Your grocer can supply Florida Citrus Exchange fruit in season and will do so if you insist.

Battle Will be Between Men Who Have Gone Undeclared for Several Years; Dundee Outweighed Nine Pounds

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—A capacity crowd is expected at the clash between Johnny Dundee of New York and Jimmy Duffy of Buffalo at Milwaukee tonight. Outweighed nine pounds, Dundee tips the scale at 128. Neither has lost a decision in several years. Dundee is in Milwaukee, where he has been training. Duffy arrives there today. A big fight contingent from Chicago will be at the ringside.

SPORT WRITERS AND OFFICIALS TO RENAME NAPS

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 15.—Cleveland sporting writers gathered with officials of the local American league club today to decide on a new name for the Naps. The sale of "Nap" Lajoie to the Athletics necessitates the move. Suggested names are: Colts, Black Sox, Bucks, Hustlers and Grays.

HIGHS CLASH WITH VIROQUA TONIGHT

Stiff Game Looked For with Coon Valley Route Team Which Shows Pep in Practice

Coach Horne's basketball aspirants will line up this evening for the second inter-scholastic game of the year when they meet the Viroqua five at Hixon gymnasium. The local men have anticipated a stiff go with the Vernon county men and have put in extra licks in training although they were victorious in a recent match at Viroqua.

Viroqua arrived this afternoon and went immediately to their quarters and later to the high school where they spent a short time in practice. Their work displayed much snap and life.

WEATHER HOLDS UP ICE REGATTA

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 15.—The Skippers of the fast ice yachts which were brought to Madison for the regatta of the Northwestern Ice Yachting association, have gone home. The lakes have been heavy with slush all the week, and it was impossible to hold the regatta, which was scheduled to start last Monday. The boats are still here, however, and the racers will be notified by wire when the lakes are in condition.

TEAM LEAVES FOR CAMPION

Strum, Byers, Weisse, Meiner, Wachter, Jackson and Roman Make Trip to Prairie du Chien

Running at break-neck speed with the cut-out wide open Dr. Sputh's 1915 model basketball machine swept down the floor at the Normal school gymnasium Wednesday night pushing the seconds into the ditch. The teamwork was never better, says the coach, and the prospects of defeating Campion college were never rosier. The men who will represent the local school in the game tonight are Strum, Byers, Weisse, Meiner, Wachter, Jackson and Roman. Heavy drill and floor work was the program for the squad last night.

"Mucky" Byers, football favorite, has been chosen for the running guard position. He is exceptionally strong on floor work with a deadly eye for the basket. He has been playing the game for several years on the Normal team.

Strum at forward. "Art" Strum, who weighs 164 pounds, plays forward. Strum has gained laurels for himself on the gridiron. He has had three years of basketball on the Normal team and one year on the High school. He is a wonderfully sure shot from a distance.

"Jawn" Weisse, who stands near six feet in basketball togs, has played center for the high school for the last four years. He is a heady, clever tactician.

Joe Roman is a dark horse who appeared in the lineup in the last two weeks. He is making good as a utility man. He is a forward and has a strong eye for the ring. He hails from Viroqua, having three years' experience on the high school team there.

Meiner All-around Player. "Al" Meiner is looked upon as the equal of Weisse. He plays forward and guard and is strong in both positions. He is just off the local high school team and has served there for several years. Meiner is as slippery as an eel and is a good shot.

Elmer Wachter is the stonewall guard of the normal schools this fall. He comes from Prairie du Chien.

Ferris Jackson is the only reserve center at the normal. He is fully as tall as Weisse, and has a good jump. He hails from Alma Center, and has had two years of the game on high school and city teams there.

BREAKS OWN RECORD

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Ted Meredith, Olympic champion and holder of the world's 600-yard indoor record, clipped one-fifth of a second off his own record in the annual indoor games of the Millrose A. A. last night at Madison Square garden. He finished in 1:13 2-5.

One of the features of the meet was the appearance of Joe Loomis, the sensational Chicago athlete, who won three national championships last season. He won the high jump in easy fashion, clearing the bar at 6.1.

But as the name Battling in the case of Nelson is baptismal and not a nickname, the case, merely taking it lightly as it is probably meant to be taken, would have small grounds.

It would seem that the ex-champion, seeing that his days in the ring are over, at least as far as the spotlight is concerned, would rather like to have his name carried down to future generations attached to the names of pugilistic celebrities.

Aber, wesh ka bibble.

The office strategist recently, in the role of sport critic, suggested that the practice of staging no-decision bouts in a number of states, Wisconsin not excepted, is liable to lead, if it has not already done so, to second-string boxers occupying the limelight and hogging the place the legitimate right of more able fighters.

Several instances have come to light in Wisconsin where boxers, leaving the ring undefeated for the mere reason that decisions were illegal, have turned around and with the aid of nimble-fingered and nimble-brained press agents have presented themselves in the light of comers, while the real winners of the fights have often been forced into obscurity.

The clause in the proposed boxing bill now before the Illinois legislature provides for decisions, provided a competent referee is in the ring. The drafters of the bill undoubtedly noticed the unpopularity of the bills in Wisconsin and New York and resolved to leave the objectionable feature out of their prospective law.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called, "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.

FANATICAL FANCIES

And Battling Nelson wishes his name to be exclusive. Who said there is nothing new under the sun?

Whether or not Nelson is sincere in his statement that he will attempt to stop boxers from using the nickname remains to be seen. It is possible that Nelson, peeved through the absence of his name from the columns for some time, takes this way to get himself before the public eye. If he does intend to put a stop to the practice, it is predicted that one Mr. Nelson of Hegewisch, Ill., will have a big job on his hands. Success for the former champion would establish a precedent in the sporting world. It would mean the copy-righting by pugilists of their favorite ring names.

But as the name Battling in the case of Nelson is baptismal and not a nickname, the case, merely taking it lightly as it is probably meant to be taken, would have small grounds.

It would seem that the ex-champion, seeing that his days in the ring are over, at least as far as the spotlight is concerned, would rather like to have his name carried down to future generations attached to the names of pugilistic celebrities.

North Siders Take Three Straight with Gullickson in Role of Star

The S. and S. club last night was unable to keep up with the Nelsons in their league match at the Malloy alleys and lost the three games of the mix. Only in the last game did the losers threaten when they finished four points behind the winners, beaten out of a game by the rolling of Gullickson of the Nelsons.

Gullickson bowled the best ball of the evening's play, scoring 212, 211 and 205, a total of 628 for an average of 209 1-3. Eaton of the winners bowled high score of the night with a mark of 222 in the first game. Huebner rolled high for the losers with 197 in the last game.

SHUGRUE MAY MEET RIVERS

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Joe Shugrue may battle Joe Rivers over the ten round route in Milwaukee January 29. ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion

A well known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion is nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

GOOD DENTISTRY

For thousands of years dental work of some description has been done, and no doubt will continue to be done (after a fashion) by some "get the money" I might state right here that this article is not intended to apply to those dentists who work for a class of people who can afford to pay good fees for good work and whose work clearly shows honest effort on their part; but only to those alleged dentists who "size up the patient" and graft each and every victim to the limit regardless of his financial condition.

It galls me to cut the prices of some inferior workmen, but on second consideration I figure that I am not to blame if people allow themselves to be swindled by these dentists and have their teeth ruined by them, but I have made up my mind not to allow my friends to be led into their clutches without being warned beforehand by me.

People come into my office every day with work in their mouths to be replaced, and for which they claim to have paid top notch prices, which is not worth the original price of the material it contains and furthermore "it never was."

I have however established my plan of doing business and am not responsible for the acts of competitors but will continue to give you the best there is in dentistry at the lowest price consistent with first class work. The only way in which to lower my already low prices is to increase my business. Give Me More Work and I Will Give You Lower Prices. Not raise them when business increases as so many dentists do. The LAWRENCE PLAN will save you twenty to twenty-five per cent on the best dental work done by human hands.

I derive a great deal of satisfaction by meeting former patients in my office every day and receiving their gratitude for my efforts of former years and to see so much satisfactory work done by me years ago. I only ask a chance to figure on that work of yours and assure you that you will be one of our best "ADVERTISERS" if you let us do your work. We do not advertise endorsements of our relatives or personal friends. Ask any of our former patients.

D. 1914, are allowed to creditors to present their claims against said deceased for examination and allowance; and that said Court will on the 29th day of June, A. D. 1915, at 10 o'clock A. M. of said day, at the Court Room of said County of La Crosse, in said County, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against said deceased.

Dated this 22nd day of Dec., 1914.
By the Court,
JOHN BRINDLEY,
County Judge.

JAMES THOMPSON,
Attorney for Estate.

AMERICAN MADE "BERTHAS" FOR CZAR

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 9.—Fifteen specially designed 14-inch guns said to be as powerful as the Krupp 42-centimeter weapon, passed through Minneapolis last night for Russia. They will go via Vladivostok. Railroad gossip said they will be used against the fortifications at Przemyśl. They came from Bethlehem, Pa.

E-Z PLATE MAN GETS THIRTY DAYS

Thomas F. McCloskey, charged in county court with obtaining money under false pretenses and bound over to circuit court, was today allowed to plead guilty to another charge and was sentenced to thirty days in county jail by Judge John Brindley. The plea was changed on the recommendation of District Attorney Otto Schlabach.

McCloskey claimed to be part owner of the "E. Z. Plate Company," at Davenport, Iowa. Authorities claim there is no firm by that name at Davenport. He obtained $100 from Wenzel Knobloch as a bond when he hired him as local representative.

Ninety dollars was returned when Knobloch demanded it. McCloskey refused to give back the other $10.

Chicago Grain Review
CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Heavy commission buying forced wheat to open at 143 5/8, a new record and an advance of 7-8c over yesterday's close, there was a slight recession in May options, shortly after the start due to selling by the Armour crowd. However, the recession of 1-4c point over the opening was soon made up and then on prices steadily crept upward until May wheat futures were quoted at 144 5/8, a gain of one point from the opening. July, was up a fraction at the start, dropped back slightly and then climbed with May, until it reached 126 5/8, 5-8c above the opening.

Corn sharing some of the wheat strength and because of cash buying by export houses, started up 3-8 to 3-4c. Later it fell back then regained, from one cent to one and one-eighth.

Oats were firmer than for several days, with a tendency upward. Provisions were generally higher and active.

PLAN OF PHILIPP WOULD KILL LAW

Senator Tompkins Says Income Tax Measure Can't Be in Hands of Local Assessors

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 15.—"If we are to place the assessment of the income tax in the hands of the local assessors we might as well repeal the income tax law," declared Senator Pierce Tompkins of Ashland today in discussing Governor Philipp's message. "That plan has been tried in many other states and it has proven a failure. It was this difference between the income tax laws in other states and in Wisconsin, that has made the income tax law a success. "It was because of the success of the income tax law in Wisconsin that I had drafted a bill providing for the abolition of the tax on personal property. I think that the success of the income tax law justifies the repeal of personal property tax law."

NOTICE

In the matter of the taking of a strip of land twenty (20) feet wide through the parcel of land adjoining Block Two (2) of Campbell's Addition on the south, for the purpose of laying out, opening, and extending the alley running north and south from Rublee street to Gohres street, between George street and Wood street.

In the matter of laying out, opening, widening and extending Third street North, from the south line of Grove street to a point two hundred forty feet (240 feet) south thereof.

In the matter of taking a strip of land sixteen feet wide through Weber's Addition (unrecorded), for the purpose of laying out, opening and extending an alley north and south through said addition, from La Crosse street to the south line of said addition, between Eighteenth street and the east line of said addition.

Notice is hereby given that on the 8th day of January, A. D. 1915, the Common Council of the City of La Crosse duly passed a resolution, whereby it appropriated and set apart in the hands of the City Treasurer a sum of money equal to the amount of damages, and balance of damages and benefits, where the damages exceed the benefits, awarded by the Commissioners in the above entitled matters, which award has been confirmed by the said Common Council as to said matters; and

That pursuant to said resolution so passed, the undersigned City Clerk of said City of La Crosse has certified to the City Treasurer a copy of said award of damages or balance of damages and benefits as aforesaid, as confirmed by said council.

And notice is further given that the awards and damages and balance of the damages and benefits as aforesaid therein are ready to be paid by the City Treasurer of said city at his office, to the person entitled thereto, upon each such claimant furnishing an abstract of title showing himself entitled to the same, and giving receipt for said benefits, damages and balances, and if required so to do by said treasurer, upon his furnishing of a bond to the said treasurer for the use of said city, with good and sufficient sureties, to hold said city harmless from all loss, costs and expenses in case any other person should claim and recover said damages or balances or any part thereof.

Dated at the City of La Crosse, Wisconsin, this 12th day of January, A. D. 1915.

E. H. HOFFMAN,
City Clerk of the City of La Crosse.

J. E. HIGBEE,
City Attorney.

SALEM CLUB HAS PROGRAM; MRS. DUDLEY LEADS

WEST SALEM, Wis., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—The Study club met at the home of Mrs. Fannie Oltman at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, January 11. Mrs. Marion Dudley led the meeting. Current events were given at roll call. The ladies having special topics were as follows: Mrs. Lottie McElowney, "The Power of the Senate, Assembly and Magistrate;" Mrs. Mary Wilcox, "The Organization of the Provinces and the Army;" Mrs. Evaline Leavitt,

"The administration of Italy and Rome;" Mrs. Katherine Selden, "The Administration of the Frontier;" Mrs. Mary Dudley, "Religious and Social Reforms;" Mrs. Ida Tilson, "A Summary of the Whole." Mr. E. A. Tower was a guest at the home of his brother and family at Milwaukee last week. Mrs. L. Gudmundson entertained the L. A. S. of the La Crosse Valley Norwegian Lutheran church at her home Wednesday. Frances Oakes, who has been at Sparta with relatives for some time, called on home folks Saturday and Sunday. The Ladies' Study club will meet Monday, January 18, at 3 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Marian Dudley. Mrs. Jessie McGee will lead the meeting. Hugh Roberts, Wykoff, Minn., is spending a few days with relatives. Misses Mary and Lizzie McElowney left Wednesday for Ardmore, Okla., where they will spend a few months' visiting relatives. Mrs. F. Chase of Bangor was a Salem caller Monday. Mr. and Mrs. George Wilcox and family spent Sunday at Winona, where they listened to addresses given by Dr. Caroline Giesel in the interest of the world wide prohibition movement. B. B. Mercereau sold his home on the corner of Main and Leonard streets to John Ferguson Tuesday. A party of ladies met at the home of Mrs. Harvey Gullickson on Wednesday afternoon. The time was spent in a social way. Supper was served at 6 o'clock. A surprise was planned on Tuesday evening for Misses Mary and Lizzie McElowney by a number of their friends at the home of Mrs. L. Sanders, prior to their leaving for an extended visit to Oklahoma. Miss Jessie Tower called on relatives in La Crosse Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Casterline are guests of friends and relatives at La Crosse. J. G. Norris purchased the William Miller property on Youlen street recently. Mrs. Elmer Waite of Bangor entertained a few West Salem friends Tuesday afternoon.

BRITISHER DROPS BOMB

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 15.—According to the Telegram, a British airman flew over the German positions around Antwerp and dropped bombs on them. What damage resulted was not disclosed.

MANY NEW FACES IN LEGISLATURE

Assembly and Senate Both Have Many Who Have Served at Previous Sessions

DEMOCRATS HAVE EIGHT SENATORS

Party of Jefferson Makes Substantial Gain in Upper House; Contests on for Positions

MADISON, Jan. 15.—When both houses of the legislature convened on Wednesday many familiar faces were missing. The last election depleted the ranks of those who had served in many previous sessions and sent new members to take their places. Numerically the republicans have the same majority as in previous sessions but there are some who predict that a new alignment of the progressives of all parties may be possible in the house, that will possibly control legislation. The new senate contains twenty-one republicans, eleven democrats and one social democrat. The new assembly is composed of sixty-four republicans, twenty-eight democrats and eight social democrats.

Missing was the face of Thomas Morris of La Crosse, who as lieutenant governor for the past four years, presided over the destinies of the senate. His place has been taken by Edward F. Dittmar of Baraboo, an equally staunch progressive. Senator I. T. Bishop of Racine county, whose kind fatherly ways always attracted the attention of all, has retired from politics because of ill health and his seat was filled by the election of Charles H. Everett of Racine, a former member of the lower house and a member of the state board of agriculture. Senator Zophy of Milwaukee, a socialist, has been succeeded by Louis A. Arnold. Senator E. F. Killeen, the leader of the forces for Governor McGovern in the last session; Senator Victor Linley of Superior, well known for the many moral reforms which he advocated; Senator H. C. Martin of Darlington, for many years the dean of the upper house; Senator M. F. White of Winnebago; Charles A. Snover of Port Atkinson; John M. True of Baraboo, for a decade a member and secretary of the state board of agriculture, and Senator Howard Teasdale of Sparta, who had the individual record for introducing the largest number of bills in a single session, were absent in the senate when the roll was called. Some of the new senators have served in the lower house in previous sessions. Among these are Henry Rollman of Chilton; Platt Whitman of Highland; William Bray of Oshkosh and A. R. Potts of Waupaca. E. T. Fairchild was once a member of the senate and later was the conservative republican candidate for governor of this state. He comes back to the senate this year with a large majority back of him.

The majority of the members of the assembly are new men. Those who served in the last session, who reappeared on the roll today were: H. M. Laursen, Shell Lake; T. A. Stewart, Verona; Charles Lentz, Mayville; Ray J. Nye, Superior; Christian Pickart, Malone; S. A. Schindler, New Glarus; J. M. Engelbreton, Gratiot; Edward Nordman, Polar; Peter J. Murphy, Cato; Carl Hinkley, Charles J. Stemper, A. J. Hedding, E. H. Zinn, J. H. Vint and W. L. Smith of Milwaukee; A. E. Frederick, Kendall; Axel Johnson, Turtle Lake; August Heden, Ogema; J. B. Jensen, Cazenovia, and Carl Hanson, Manitowish.

Among others who did not serve in the last session, but who attracted public attention by their services in previous sessions are A. V. Wells, Livingston, Harry J. Mortenson, New Lisbon; Edward A. Everett, Eagle River; F. W. Kubasta, Merrill; Frank J. Weber, Milwaukee; C. B. Ballard, Appleton; William A. Kay, Spring Valley; L. C. Whittey, Edgerton, and George P. Hambrecht, Grand Rapids.

Missing in the assembly were the faces of such prominent previous legislators as George W. Bingham, Friendship, who was a leader in the legislation for perfecting the workmen's compensation act; D. E. Bowe of Mellen, who has been chosen as secretary of the Wisconsin commission of the Panama-Pacific exposition; Andrew Gullickson of Barron county, who was a leader for reform taxation; Archie McComb, Green Bay, who was one of the active floor leaders in the last session; James Allison of Pepin county, an advocate for legislation in favor of the farming

COCOANUT OIL MAKES A SPLENDID SHAMPOO

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair. Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get mulsified coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

Hansel Sweater

Here is an idea taken from the peasant dress of a tiny Belgian. It is intended for a serviceable knock-about sweater—and the yarn will stand the wear. But it is so pretty that you will probably want to keep it for "best." You will find it easy to make and a charming gift. Although the Fleisher Yarns are the finest made, the quantity required for this garment costs less than a dollar fifty. Send the coupon below for free directions. The yarn used is Fleisher's Germantown Zephyr, 4-fold—one of the sixteen

FLEISHER YARNS

A garment must hang well. It must be soft and warm. It must stand hard wear. No matter how great your skill you cannot put these qualities into your work—they are yarn qualities. The uniform high qualities of the Fleisher Yarns are acknowledged by yarn-users everywhere. Whatever kind of yarn you need, always insist on Fleisher's—look for the trademark ticket on every skein.

PLENTY OF GRAIN IN MINNEAPOLIS

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 15.—Minneapolis millers denied today that there was an apparent shortage of grain in this city. It is generally asserted the milling companies are fully supplied with grain for milling purposes and that no corner has, as yet, affected them.

"There is plenty of wheat to be had if you have the money to buy," said an official of the Pillsbury-Washburn Flour company, late today. "We are experiencing no difficulty in keeping our mills supplied."

J. S. Bell, president of Pillsbury company, declined to be quoted, but at his office it was stated that no shortage has developed at present and supplies were coming forward in good style.

STOUT TO REFREE CLABBY-GIBBONS GO

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Harry Stout, in all probability, will be the third man in the ring when Jimmy Clabby of Hammond and Mike Gibbons clash at Milwaukee next week. It was announced here yesterday. Clabby tips the scale at 152. He will rest two days before the battle. Five thousand dollars worth of tickets have been sold in Chicago alone for the mill.

TOWN HOSTILE TO SUSPECT

SAGINAW, Mich., Jan. 15.—Hostile demonstrations against Charles Kimbrough, negro, 35, who is held in the local jail on a charge of having assaulted and murdered little Rosie Laundry-Fournier, aged 8, and then burning her body to destroy the evidences of his crime, may force an immediate trial of the negro. Police wish to be relieved of the responsibility of his safety.

CAPITAL MAY GO DRY

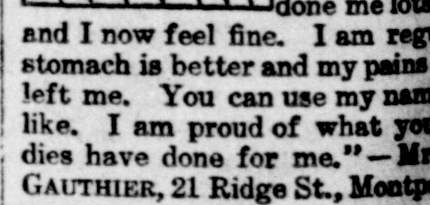

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Senate Sheppard of Texas stated today that he expected the senate to vote today or Saturday on his amendment to the District of Columbia appropriation bill, providing for absolute prohibition in the district after November 1916. He has two plans to bring it to a certain vote.

WOMAN IN BAD CONDITION

Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Montpelier, Vt.—"We have great faith in your remedies. I was very irregular and was tired and sleepy all the time, would have cold chills, and my hands and feet would be cold. My stomach bothered me, I had pain in my side and a bad headache most of the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me lots of good and I now feel fine. I am regular, my stomach is better and my pains have all left me. You can use my name if you like. I am proud of what your remedies have done for me."—Mrs. MARY GAUTHIER, 21 Ridge St., Montpelier, Vt.

AN HONEST DEPENDABLE MEDICINE

It must be admitted by every fair-minded, intelligent person, that a medicine could not live and grow in popularity for nearly forty years, and to-day hold a record for thousands upon thousands of actual cures, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, without possessing great virtue and actual worth. Such medicines must be looked upon and termed both standard and dependable by every thinking person. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.
